WORLD WIDE VIEWS ON Global Warming

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26 AT ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY, TEMPE, ARIZONA

SPEAK OUT

Join participants from over 40 nations in a discussion on global warming and share your ideas with the United Nations!

Your voice will be added to recommendations being developed for the 2009 United Nations Climate Change conference in Copenhagen in December. Arizona State University is among several sites participating in this worldwide event, and 100 greater Phoenix metro residents will be chosen to join. No previous knowledge is required.

SEEK SOLUTIONS

These global discussions offer participants the opportunity to be a part of an international conversation about environmental policy options that affect us both locally and globally. Participants will consider questions regarding emission reduction, implementation and funding, watch videos from worldwide experts and advisors, and share their policy recommendations with participants at other sites.
